Mechanism

To produce the alkoxy (strong base/nucleophile) either NaH (sodium hydride) or NaNH₂ (sodium amide) with an alcohol can be used. The alcohol can be 1° or 2°.

The alkyl halide has to be a 1° alkyl halide. Secondary alkyl halides under these conditions mostly produce elimination products by an E2 mechanism.