ABOUT PETE

At 26, Pete Mockaitis has already touched thousands in his roles as speaker, author and consultant. Pete began his “grown-up” career at The Bridgespan Group and Bain & Company, a firm CNN has called the “the elite in the already elite field of management consultants.” He now runs the Launch Point Institute, a research and training organization that equips incoming college freshmen for adulthood’s new challenges. His latest book, Team Up: Becoming Accountable to Your Dreams, released to bookstores nationwide in December 2009.
